

Providing high-quality equitable education

Atlanta Public Schools is one of the largest school districts in the state of Georgia, serving approximately 50,000 students across 87 learning sites, including 59 neighborhood schools, 5 partner schools, 19 charter schools, 2 citywide single-gender academies, and 2 alternative programs.

ProSys Information Systems, a WBENC-Certified Women's Business Enterprise (WBE), has been partnering with Atlanta Public Schools since 1998, providing end-user technology, project and support services to approximately 50,000 of their students, staff, and administrators.

Better technology for a better education

Atlanta Public Schools' main objective is to ensure that all students are supported and succeed in their learning journey by providing appropriate digital learning tools. ProSys offers tailored technology solutions and services that ensure that organizations receive the best value for their IT budget, and that this is translated into improved outcomes for students.

ProSys's experience within the educational sector enables us to help districts such as Atlanta Public Schools make informed decisions when it comes to technology. By leveraging ProSys, Atlanta Public Schools can efficiently deploy and support technology at scale and pace.

A powerful partnership enables digital transformation

ProSys is a reliable and stable long-term partner to Atlanta Public Schools, aligning with their goal of making positive contributions to society and ensuring all students succeed through digital enablement.

ProSys has helped improve the school district's access to technology and information by employing intelligent platforms, resulting in improved student engagement and interaction in virtual classes. Additionally, agility and resilience has improved, demonstrated by timely responses to technical issues and the effective transition to remote learning.

ProSys has consistently met Atlanta Public Schools' values of putting students first by delivering high quality information technology services, helping the district to enable the students to better learn and connect with their teachers and classmates.

"With ProSys, I tell people that I feel like I'm their only customer. I know that if I ever call with a need, they'll immediately respond."
